ABOUT OUR ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

NWAACC

(NORTHWEST ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION OF COMMUNITY COLLEGES)

The Northwest Athletic Association of Community Colleges is the parent organization for thirty-five(35) community colleges in the states of Washington and Oregon*. The NWAACC has a variety of administrative responsibilities including conference tournament management, eligibility, publications, rule enforcement and sports information.

The growth of the community colleges over the past decade has been impressive. The colleges in the Northwest are comprehensive in nature and provide a variety of academic and vocational offerings as well as many enrichment activities for their students. As our student athletes have transitioned into a work environment, many have provided testimony about the significant benefit and value that participation in community college athletics provided for them.

Student-athletes must be a full-time student enrolled in a minimum of 12 credits hours and maintain a minimum 2.0 GPA for any season of participation. Second year participants must have earned 36 credits and maintain a minimum cumulative 2.0 GPA prior to the start of the season.

BELLEVUE COLLEGE WOMEN'S SOCCER

The Bellevue College women's soccer team had a stellar season last year in 2010. The Bulldogs finished the campaign as West Region champions, but concluded their season with a 13-3-4 record in the NWAACC Championship semi-final.

The 2011-12 season brings new changes to the coaching staff. Head Coach Tao Shen takes over, and will continue to build on recent successful seasons. Shen has experience coaching at the collegiate, high school, and club levels. He also played collegiately at Concordia University, and semi-professionally with the Yakima Reds and Las Vegas Strikers.

Garen Bedoyan is the assistant coach. Bedoyan earned his master's degree in Football Industry at University of Liverpool, England. Currently, he is coaching both high school and club soccer in Vancouver, WA.
