I agree to comply with all BCC and IT security policies governing appropriateness of use and content information supplied on or through the official Bellevue Community College home page. This statement applies regardless of whether the information is provided locally or linked from another source.

I acknowledge that this agreement applies to any BCC sanctioned Internet service that may be provided in support of this site, which includes, but is not limited to, threaded conferencing, listserv service, and IRC or any synchronous chat service.

I understand that BCC Information Resources, beyond reasonable care to operate the BCC home website and related communications links, is not responsible for continuity or quality of service from any other source.

I understand that BCC Information Resources may interrupt without notice links to any source, on-campus or off, for security, operational, or policy reasons. When possible, advance notice will be provided.

I agree to abide by all copyright/trademark licensing regulations and laws.
