

Take the Next Step Beyond Land Acknowledgement:

Supporting Local Native & Indigenous Peoples

Bellevue College, Multicultural Services

Present day Bellevue, WA is located on the traditional and unceded territories of the Duwamish, Muckleshoot, Snoqualmie, and other Coast Salish tribes who have made their homes on these lands and along these waters since time immemorial, and who are still here today.

If you have the means to do so, take the next step toward active support for our indigenous communities. See whose lands you occupy, and follow links to local tribes' websites where you can find information on donating, volunteering, and other opportunities to support.

See Whose Lands You Occupy:

Native-Land.ca | Our home on native land

Local Tribes:

Duwamish

<https://www.realrentduwamish.org/>

Muckleshoot

<https://www.muckleshoot.nsn.us/>

Snoqualmie

<https://snoqualmietribe.us/snoqualmie-tribe-ancestral-lands-movement/>

Suquamish

<https://suquamish.nsn.us/home/suq-foundation/>

Tulalip

<https://www.tulaliptribes-nsn.gov/WhoWeAre>